

Value Education - Skit Summary

Skit have been ~~confirmed~~ performed by all four groups consisting of around 6-7 members.

The First group performed skit on Ragging, where they explained the importance of value education and about it had solid point of how one should not be tolerant towards injustice. There was some funny moments too, where character mispronounced.

The Second group had to counter the argument of first group. They tried to represent positive angle. They emphasised that one should not judge other on first interaction. I think they were wrong a bit, I can't accept that proposal.

The Third group, which was our group depicted Buddha life, An Ideal person for value and established them as epitome of how we should follow value.

Fourth group had small presentation where they emphasised the value must be followed with value following people only. Though they were wrong, but they had point of what to choose - life or value?
